

ASSA SAGES AT IHPBA 2024

Prizes awarded

SAGES: Prize Winners

Best Oral 1st prize

Mico Price, University of the Free State

Title: The dietician's role in the preoperative management for patients undergoing laparoscopic surgery of the upper GIT

Best Oral 2nd prize

Rafaela Hamada Juca, Elaine Ataide State University of Campinas, Brazil

Title: Multidrug resistant infections in liver transplant donors – epidemiology and impact on transplantation outcome

Best oral 3rd prize

Humphrey Kamuzinzi, University of Pretoria

Title: The association between serum fructosamine and random spot urine fructose levels with the severity of non-alcoholic fatty liver disease – an analytical cross-sectional study

Gastro Foundation prize for a fellow

Yonela Qubekile, University of KwaZulu-Natal

Title: Point-of-care immunochemical faecal occult blood testing and symptom-based clinical prediction models to promote earlier diagnosis of colorectal cancer in South Africa.

ASSA: Abstract Prize Winners

1st prize winner:

Dr Matthias Scriba

Title: Predicting full thickness necrosis in adult acute corrosive ingestion injuries in a sub-Saharan African setting

2nd prize winner:

Dr Ilna Conradie

Title: The landscape of thyroid cancer in South Africa: a multi-institutional review

Seen at the congress

Sandy Mosenye, Muaz Moosa, Isneen Hilmy, Sabelo Hlatshwayo

Desiree Moodley, Shaun-Ray Temmers, Yonela Qubekile, Rahm Makan, Jessica Wing, Ernst Fredericks, Aslam Parker

Humphrey Kamuzinzi, Yonela Qubekile, Matt Scriba

Tumelo Roestoff, Nimrod Mokhele, Melvin Mbao, Vikash Lala, Kgaogelo Ntshwana, Didintle Mokgoko, Ernst Fredericks, VG Naidoo

Quick facts

- Total delegates – over 2 200
- From 98 countries
- Invited faculty – 346
- Over 1 800 accepted abstracts

Jake Krige delivering the Solly Marks Eponymous Lecture